WOMAN AND INFANT ARE TRAIN VICTIMS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—Adding another to the long and growing list of automobile and railroad crossing fatalities in the vicinity of Los Angeles, a woman and child were instantly killed late yesterday at the Valley boulevard crossing of the Southern Pacific, about three miles east of El Monte, and two other persons were severely injured, one perhaps fatally.

The dead are Mrs. Conrad Graf, 30, wife of a prominent rancher of Puente, and her five-week-old daughter. Those injured are Mr. and Mrs. George Semler of Covina. Mrs. Semler, who is in a delicate condition, may not live, it was said.

Semler, who was driving the automobile, stated that he had slowed up as he neared the crossing to exchange greetings with friends in another machine. He did not notice the train, he said, until he had started the auto again. Then the locomotive loomed suddenly in front and he was unable to avoid the collision.

TWO MEN HELD IN DOUBLE DEATH CASE

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Authorities investigating the deaths of two actresses here Saturday night, were informed today that two women answering their descriptions were seen in a fight with two men in an automobile near where the bodies were found. Witnesses to the fight said that it occurred about the time physicians judged the women died.

Dr. Joseph Simmons, coroner's physician, said indications that death might have been caused by alcohol wood poisoning were obtained from examination of the young women's heads. Simmons planned to analyze the stomachs of the victims today.

Two men were under arrest today. James Meeks, Salt Lake City, and Robert McCarthy, of Boston, were living in the building where the dead women had an apartment.

Meeks and McCarthy said they had rooms in the apartment of the two women and shared the expenses.

ARRESTS FOLLOW RESCUERS REACH MOVIE DISASTER HARDING PARTY

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Three men were under arrest today while various city departments were conducting investigations of the fire panic in a motion picture theater on the lower East Side late yesterday, which resulted in the death of six children and injury of a dozen others.

The stampede started when a woman shouted "fire" as smoke from a furnace fire seeped through the floor.

There were about 400 persons in the theater, half of whom were children. In the gallery, the only entrance to which was a steep, narrow stairway, were about 100 children. When the cry of "fire" was raised the first of the children to reach the stairway, stumbled and plunged headlong to the bottom.

They were trampled by the fear-maddened children who scrambled after them.

Police had difficulty in handling the frantic parents who rushed to the scene when they heard of the panic.

He further declared she would not appear in court today, as had been stated.

It is stated that the second postponement of the trial of the "enigma woman" will delay the proceedings until late in January. Plans for two barracks, each containing eleven apartments, were made at a meeting of the housing committee of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce today. The apartments will consist of two rooms, a living room, 10 by 12 feet, and a kitchen, 6 by 12 feet in size. The committee expects to meet with contractors tomorrow to make arrangements for the completion of the first building by next Monday. The barracks are planned to cost approximately $2200 each, or about $200 for each apartment. The buildings will be erected on two lots on South Clarendon street on which the committee now holds options to lease at $15 a month with the privilege of buying later.

The barracks will be constructed of matched lumber with the dressed face inside. The rafters will also be dressed lumber. Partitions between the rooms will be doubled in order to make them as near soundproof as possible.

Subscriptions are being taken to build the structure and about $500 has already been collected.

TITLE GLASHES ON BILL FOR SATURDAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Football's bread line, standing outside the door for an issue of championship pie, was strung out somewhat today.

Princeton, in the East, Notre Dame and Ohio state in the West; and Georgia Tech. in the South, head the line.

Pittsburgh and Harvard continued their shuffle to the front but neither showed the class that the Tigers did in trouncing Yale, and Pennsylvania State lost prestige by barely getting a tie with Lehigh.

Illinois was pulled out of the line in the west by Wisconsin, leaving Ohio state in undisputed lead of the western conference while Notre Dame trimmed Indiana.

Georgia Tech. gave further reason for the southern claim by beating the strong Georgetown eleven.

With the season just about ended, it seems improbable that a clean cut title for the eastern championship will be acquired.

Princeton is through for the year and unless Yale pulls the "impossible" and beats Harvard next Saturday, the Tigers and the Crimson can both claim the eastern honors.

Ohio state and Illinois, contenders for last year's conference championship meet in the West. If State should lose, the wreath will have to be divided between Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Regardless of conference figures and prestige, Notre Dame very likely will be considered the real western champion if Coach Rockne's eleven finishes an undefeated season.

Georgia Tech. seems almost sure of the southern honors.

D'ANNUNZIO BOLTS ITALY-SLAV TREATY

ROME, Nov. 15.—Gabriele D'Annunzio has occupied the islands of Arbe and Targia in defiance of the Italian-Jugo treaty settling the Adriatic dispute.

The islands are directly south of Fiume which was made an independent city by the treaty.

The D'Annunzio's government aroused the enthusiastic support of the Italian population in denouncing the Santa Margherite treaty. D'Annunzio declared his plans had the support of Admiral Millo of the Italian navy.

D'Annunzio called his cabinet together as soon as authentic reports of the treaty were received. A formal statement was read to the public by Premier Zoli and large mobs set forth immediately to raid nearby towns. Sussak was stormed and all Croatian signs were torn down. Fiume legionnaires were dispatched to the Castua Region where they established garrisons and assumed control of the villages. The towns had been assigned to Jugo-Slavia under the treaty.

RIVALS IN GRID TITLE BATTLE CONFIDENT

With the sting of last year's 41-0 defeat to spur them on, Coach Marvin ("Spud") Morrison's Santa Ana high school football men today launched their last week of practice before the game at Fullerton, Saturday afternoon, when the championship of the Orange League will be determined.

While admitting that the locals have a hard game ahead of them, Morrison said that man for man the Santa Anas are superior to the Oil Drillers, but that victory for one or the other will depend upon the breaks of the game.

By defeating Orange 28 to 0, and Anaheim 42 to 0, Santa Ana won the right to play for the championship against Fullerton, which also defeated the other teams in the league by large scores.

Over at Fullerton, where Coach Stewart ("Shorty") Smith is equally confident that his team will win the championship, the Oil Drillers are being worked to the limit in secret practice.

The rivalry between the two teams is expected to attract one of the largest crowds ever assembled at a football game in Orange county.

Approximately 100 members of the Bible class attended the meeting. The address made by Wright was stimulating in the extreme.

Lloyd Babbitt and Robert L. Brown gave two vocal solos each.

WOMAN REFUSES TO PART WITH BABE AS SHE ENTERS JAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Lila Grange, 21, ended her first night in jail here. On the cot beside her a 17-month-old girl had slumbered peacefully all night without understanding the meaning to the steel bars around her.

Mrs. Grange was arrested on a charge of defrauding an innkeeper. At the city jail she steadfastly refused to part with her baby daughter, despite pleadings of jail matrons. Mrs. Grange was said to have come here from Marysville a short time ago. She was arrested at a fashionable downtown hotel.

FIVE MEN GRANTED CITIZENS' PAPERS

The commercial law class of Professor L. O. Culp, of Fullerton Junior High School, was present in force today in the court room of Judge R. Y. Williams for the purpose of listening to the naturalization proceedings which were held there.

Five citizens were passed in the examination for their citizenship papers by Judge Williams. T. Anderson, of the United States naturalization service, who was present to aid in conducting the hearing. The five men and their sponsors were:

David Rees, of Wales, sponsored by W. H. Swoap and J. L. Sexton; George Henry Hemphill, of England, by H. B. Woodrough and D. J. Dodge; Theodor Nelson, of Denmark, by C. M. Steele and E. T. Goebbe; George Grant, of Scotland, by George Smith and Rosalie Smith; and Michael Hein, of Russia, by Walter J. Cole and M. M. Schenck.

Several comic touches enlivened the hearing. Anderson asked Hemphill how many stars there were in the American flag. Hemphill replied "Forty-eight." Anderson then asked "How many stripes?" Hemphill scratched his head a few times, tried hard to restrain himself, but finally glanced out of the corner of his eye at the big American flag hanging behind the judge's bench. "I guess you'll qualify," remarked the judge, amid general laughter.

George Grant thought he had run up against a question, which even a canny Scot should not be required to answer, when Examiner Anderson, intending to ask him how many of the past presidents of the United States he could name, asked him by mistake, "How many future presidents of the United States can you name?" Grant replied that he knew of Harding, but beyond that he wasn't very certain.

Grant was also asked whether he kept up with current events. He said he did. When asked how he did it, he stated that he read the Santa Ana Register.

He was granted his citizenship papers at once!

SEEKING RECRUITS FOR OLD SECOND DIVISION

The War department issued instructions by telegraph to the general recruiting service of the army to recruit to full strength immediately the Second division, now stationed at Camp Travis, Texas. Major General James G. Harbord is in command of this division. He was General Pershing's first chief of staff in France, and commanded the service of supply there. The order was sent to every recruiting station in the United States, and directed that all stations concentrate recruiting efforts toward obtaining the 6000 men needed to fill the division.

Under normal recruiting procedure recruits for the Second division are sought chiefly in the states of Texas and Oklahoma, which are allocated to this division under the recently adopted policy of allocation of states to regiments for recruiting purposes. The priority given recruiting in this order will bring about enlistment of men from all parts of the United States. The Second division is known as the "Indian Heads" from the shoulder insignia worn in France where the division fought at Belleau Wood and in the Argonne.

BETTER SERVICE DEMANDED OF GAS COMPANY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 15.—The city of Huntington Beach has filed with the State Railroad Commission a complaint charging that the Southern Counties Gas company has failed to maintain a continuous gas service to the Huntington Beach municipal gas distributing system.

On the ground that the interruptions in the service have been a source of considerable suffering, danger and annoyance, the city is demanding that the state commission compel the gas company to give continuous service.

At the office of the city clerk this morning it was stated that the gas service to patrons in Huntington Beach this month has been very poor most of the time. Part of the trouble was due to the fact that the city is making a good many changes in its distributing system. This is admitted by a city official. However, it is stated that during a period of eight or nine days the delivery was shut off each day.

On one day, it is stated, the gas was off from about 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Telegrams of complaint were sent to the railroad commission, and later the formal complaint was filed. A copy of that complaint was received today by J. C. Hayden, the district agent of the gas company at Santa Ana. Hayden is here this afternoon looking the situation over.

He said that there has been an unusually large usage of gas at Huntington Beach this fall, and some adjustments of that account may be found necessary. He is here to gather the facts in the case. He said that he had heard of no complaints made in the last week or more. He believed the work being done by the city has had a good deal to do with the dissatisfaction expressed here.

"Last fall we had some difficulty for a time," said a city official. "It seems to us that the gas company is selling more gas than it can supply, and that we suffer when the supply runs short. We understand that Newport beach is somewhat in the same situation, though possibly not suffering to the extent we have suffered here."

LEAGUE DELEGATES IN FIRST SESSION

Investigate international questions. Delegates will be quartered at Geneva's main hotels, and their office work will be done in the League's new capital, recently the National Hotel, which was acquired by Sir Eric to take care of the offices of the secretariat, and commissions.

Probably one of the most ticklish problems the assembly will be called on to settle is likely to be proposed to the league by Peru, China and Bolivia. It is the Tacno-Arica boundary controversy. Both the Peruvians and Bolivians have made known their intention of submitting the question to the League for settlement. It is expected Chili will acquiesce.

Since the Seventies, the question of who owns Tacno-Arica has worried statesmen of South America. More than once has war threatened, and in fact Chili actually declared war on Peru and in the Treaty of Ancón gained possession of the disputed province. A plebiscite was set for ten years later (1883), but for several reasons the will of the inhabitants was never allowed to be expressed. Since then a crisis has appeared on many occasions, but, although no diplomatic relations are maintained between Peru and Chili, there has been no war.

Of most interest to the United States, perhaps, in view of the failure of that nation to enter the League is the assembly's attitude toward the Root-Phillimore International Court of Arbitration, proposed by a committee of world purists under guidance of Elihu Root, former Secretary of State under President Roosevelt.

Inasmuch as several European nations are opposed to the unlimited powers of the court, as the United States is to the unqualified Article Ten of the Covenant, considerable debate is expected before the court's constitution is finally approved.

That the court will certainly be established is assured by the action of the League council in approving of the plan for formulation of a permanent court of international justice. Mainly the mooted questions are what form it will take and to what extent nations will adhere to its decisions.

Prolonged applause greeted first mention of the United States at the opening session of the League of Nations assembly today.

"Washington is the home of liberty and the United States can not long remain out of the league," Premier Motta of Switzerland, declared.

President Wilson and King Albert drew a hearty tribute of applause when their names were mentioned.

Motta declared the world hoped for economic reconstruction to grow out of the assembly's debate. He suggested the breaking up of monopolies on raw materials as a necessary step.

M. Paul Hymans, Belgium, presided over the opening session. He called the gathering to order by reading President Wilson's convocation, which declared that the league, starting with forty-two members, was certain of its future. He declared it would be most effective as the agent for a new era of international co-operation and harmony.

POLITICIANS LINKED WITH BOOZE SCANDAL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—A hurried week-end visit to Los Angeles by F. C. Yellowley, acting state prohibition director, was causing much speculation here today.

Yellowley arrived unannounced and his coming was unknown even to J. C. Weisbach, special enforcement inspector for Southern California. Yellowley spent many hours going over records in the local liquor inquiry. It was understood his visit had to do with the political turn which the booze investigation suddenly has taken.

It is rumored that two politicians are about to be drawn into the scandal. These politicians are declared to have threatened to involve others whose names will create a sensation.

Yellowley returned to San Francisco last night.

ASSOCIATION'S FIRST POOL IS CLOSED

The Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association first pool closed this afternoon at 5 o'clock. There remained today, for inspection by a representative of the California Walnut Growers' association, Los Angeles, only part of a mixed car. The inspection of this car was to be made late this afternoon. So far this season every car has passed inspection.

Gleanings will go to make up the second pool, this season. Growers have been requested to delay deliveries for this pool until the first of next week, as the management of the local packing house desires to lay off the workmen during the remainder of the present week.

The following letter, a copy of which has been received here, is pointed to as an argument in support of the local association's claim that it pays to ship and pack only high grade guaranteed walnuts:

Portland, Ore., Nov. 10, 1920.
"California Walnut Growers' Association,
"Los Angeles, Cal.
"Gentlemen: We have today unloaded the car of Santa Ana walnuts and we believe it is only fair to you to state that the quality of these nuts is quite beyond our expectations, being much better than we expected to have ever seen from that district.

"The car fully confirmed your test of 93. In fact, our test showed 94 on the No. 1s, and 96 on the bidded, and this without a single mouldy nut. "We are glad that we received a good delivery as undoubtedly, against lower priced nuts which are coming to this market, we must have some argument with which to convince our trade that it pays to buy nuts of guaranteed grade.
"Very truly yours
"ALLEN AND LEWIS."

ACCUSED BARRICADES SELF IN BEACH HOUSE

Barricading the doors of his home against the City Marshal of Huntington Beach who was seeking to arrest him on a charge of attempting to attack Sheriff D. L. Robinson, 27, defied arrest until reinforcements were called from Sheriff Jackson's office in this city. Robinson is now in the county jail.

Robinson, who is a boilermaker, lives next door to the girl he is alleged to have attempted to attack. Yesterday she entered his home for the purpose of using the telephone and, according to her story, Robinson attempted to attack her. She freed herself and ran to her home, according to reports.

The city marshal of Huntington Beach was notified by the girl's parents. When the marshal went to Robinson's home he found the place locked and the doors barricaded. The man refused to give himself up. Motorcycle Officers O. K. Carr and Roy Ballard were dispatched to Huntington Beach. Before they arrived, however, Robinson gave himself up. He was brought to the county jail by the two officers.

Robinson told police he was married. His wife is said to be visiting relatives in the East, and has not yet been notified of her husband's arrest.

ALLEGED ANNOYERS OF GIRLS ARE ARRESTED

John Powers, 24, a Mexican, was today under a sentence to serve thirty days in the county jail, following his plea of "guilty" to a charge of battery.

While in company with Jesus Sanchez, 32, he is said to have approached two white, 14-year-old school girls in Santa Ana and insisted they go for a ride with him. Both men are said to have been under the influence of liquor at the time.

The girls hurried on, and the men are alleged to have followed. Meeting a schoolboy friend, Donald Thompson, the girls appealed to him for help. Powers is said to have continued to bother the girls and to have used a good deal of profanity. Finally, it is alleged, Powers seized Thompson and struck and slapped him several times. Sanchez finally persuaded Powers to desist, and the Mexicans went on their way.

Thompson called Officer Neuschwanger, who placed the two Mexicans under arrest. Powers was given thirty days. It is understood that a charge of drunkenness will be placed by the city police authorities against Sanchez.

OFFICER AGREES TO CARE FOR TURKEYS

What could the county do with twelve hens, one turkey gobbler, and one turkey hen with twelve little two-day-old turkey chicks, which were placed in its custody after the possessor of them has been arrested on a charge of having stolen them?

That was the problem which confronted Sheriff C. E. Jackson today, following the arrest of Dimmas Alvarado, accused of having stolen the assortment of fowls from Jose Garcia.

Constable W. N. Carter finally came to the rescue with an offer to "care for them like a mother," and they were placed in his custody, pending a determination of their ownership.

Alvarado pleaded "not guilty" to the charge this morning in the court of Justice John B. Cox.

He stated that he bought the turkeys from some one in El Modena, who had since moved to Alamitos Bay, and whose name or address or present whereabouts he did not know. Garcia claims that Alvarado took the turkeys and hens from his yard, and testified that he could identify the turkey hen positively.

Judge Cox set the hearing of the case for November 24, in order to allow the man who shall establish ownership of the turkeys to have them in time for Thanksgiving dinner.

"I don't know but what I should hold this man on a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency," stated Justice Cox when he found that the two-day old turkey chicks were included in the alleged loot.

NOURISHMENT is Nature's first aid to the body in times of weakness.

How easy will be that understanding when that language is our own? How potent will be Anglo-Saxon ideals, how beneficent their influence?

Here is something worth remembering, in thinking of future international relations. When all the important nations are able, and accustomed, to express their views in our own language, and have the knowledge of English and American institutions, culture and ideals that command of the language implies, it certainly ought to be easier to get along with them, and easier for them to get along with each other. A common language is the greatest of pacifiers, especially when it is the language of the greatest and most pacific of nations.

MOTERING GENIUS

"There is no doubt," says a technical motor expert, "that real automobile drivers are born with natural talents, as are artists, musicians and other geniuses."

The reader need not hasten to make personal application of this remark. He may belong to the gifted class mentioned, but the chances are that he does not. Consider how few geniuses there are among all the people who paint and play.

"As a very small percentage have this real talent," continues the expert, "it behooves the average man to study hard, as he drives carefully, and gets his experience in small, inexpensive doses. He is not an experienced driver until he has handled a car several years under all conditions, and he is only fooling himself if he believes the contrary."

This is just about the most sensible word yet spoken on the subject of automobile driving, as candid intelligent drivers will confess. Most drivers are getting their experiences in doses that are too big, and too expensive for themselves and others. The number of automobile accidents is increasing alarmingly. The genius may learn quickly. The ordinary man or woman had better give up the notion that a car can be learned and mastered in a week or a month, and go slowly, carefully and observingly, with a mind alert and ready to learn something about the art even after a year or two of experience.

AID THE RED CROSS

The annual roll call for renewal of memberships and for new memberships in the American Red Cross began in Santa Ana in earnest this morning when canvassers started their house to house solicitation.

The response, of course, in the main will be satisfactory. Of that much we feel assured, for Santa Ana has never failed to give liberal support to the Greatest Mother on Earth. This year, however, there is reason to hope for a greater response than ever before; half of the money that is raised in Santa Ana will go directly into the betterment of Santa Ana home conditions.

The Red Cross has provided Santa Ana with a community nurse. While this nurse, Miss Rohde, has been here only a few weeks, she has already demonstrated that she is a valuable asset to our community life. She is teaching classes of girls in home nursing. The training that she is giving these girls is of practical value to them and to the community in general. The work of the community nurse has been extended into child welfare work, into a study of general work of the Red Cross. Santa where advice from her has been of great value in the care of the sick.

Half of the money goes into the general work of the Red Cross. Santa Anans will remember that the Red Cross organization "has been built to serve humanity, and humanity needs its service in peace, just as it did in war."

The American Red Cross recognizes no limit to the field of its work. It is not circumscribed or pent up by geographical boundaries. Wherever there is cruel disaster; wherever fire, or flood, or earthquake, or war, or famine, or pestilence have their ghastly haunts, there is the field of operations of the Red Cross. To the scene of human distress the Red Cross flies, as it were, on the wings of mercy.

It is not an onerous task to help this noble work. It is a privilege that should inspire everyone. Become a member of the Red Cross at once, and do all you can to increase the membership in this community.

Wet Season?

Long Beach Press—Only Californians, or those who have been in this state several seasons, realize how vitally important copious rains in the lowlands and heavy snowfall in the mountains are to California. What blood is to the human body this life-giving precipitation is to California.

Particularly encouraging are the refreshing rains that have fallen over the state early this season. And full of promise are the deep snows on the high Sierras. This foreshadows a winter of abundant precipitation, and a resulting filling of the subterranean basins whence California derives its reserve water supply. A winter of good rains and heavy snows, well distributed, soon would overcome the shortage of precipitation for the last few seasons.

While Providence benignly sends precipitation in abundance, in the long run, yet there are seasons of light rainfall and snowfall. Against these, provision should be made by a wise system of conservation of flood waters.

Amenities

Long Beach Press—A courtesy return visit to Brazil and Uruguay, in behalf and in the stead of the president of the United States, will be made by Secretary of State Colby, who also will extend his visit to Buenos Aires, in acceptance of a cordial invitation to President Wilson to visit the country. The presidents respectively of Brazil and Uruguay recently visited the United States and paid their respects to President Wilson. This interchange of amenities is decidedly wholesome. It fosters the friendly intimacy that should exist between the United States and its sister republics of Latin America. It enlarges the interest of the United States in these southern republics and it quickens their interest in and friendship for the United States.

This diplomatic visit and every thing that has a tendency to promote true relations between the United States and Latin America are commendable.

Riverside's Need

Riverside Enterprise—As winter approaches, the people of this community turn their attention to the one big enterprise which places Riverside on the map during the months when hundreds of people flee from the rigors of eastern weather. The Glenwood Mission Inn, better known than the town in which it is located, again comes into its own and thousands of people pass through its doors during the winter season, carrying the message of the Inn, Riverside and Southern California back to the snowbound East after the thaw comes.

The Mission Inn has done more than any other institution to make Riverside the sort of town that it is. The aspirations of one man and his determination to carry out his desires, made a real city of Riverside. The Inn is the great attraction. As the result of having it, attention has also been drawn to Mount Rubidoux and other natural beauty spots.

The Riverside traveler in the east soon learns that he lives in a city that has gained fame and 90 per cent of the people who indicate a knowledge of it and familiarity with it, first dilate upon its remarkable hotel.

So the tourist hotel part of Riverside is well taken care of. But why is it that this city has not the facilities that most other tourist cities, such as Santa Barbara and Pasadena, have in the form of furnished apartments and homes? It should not be necessary for one man to furnish all of the tourist requirements. The natural building sites are sufficiently numerous and attractive. Why cannot the community arouse itself to these needs and see that they are secured?

A PACIFIER

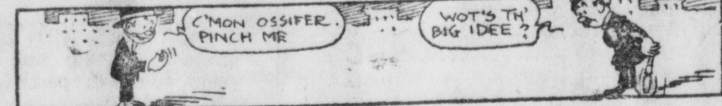

An American born in Europe, who has been traveling abroad and studying conditions resulting from the war, writes:

"Few men and women of even moderate education in Europe, in the next generation, will be without a knowledge of English. All over Europe men, women and children are studying the language of America as never before. It is being rapidly adopted in the curriculums of their schools. Our failure to understand the problem of Europe is in no small measure due to our inability to understand the language of Europe."

They're using women juries now; 'twas in the morning press. It's not a bad idea, I vow! They'll make a hit, I guess. To have a dozen natty dames, among them one or two old flames, Matildas, Genevieves and Mames, would suit me, I confess. One might recall that long ago, when she was sweet sixteen, I'd taken her to see a show—to one she'd never seen; another'd recollect the night I'd taken her to have a bite where food was good and lights were bright—where I had blown my dough. Let's just suppose she'd married Jim instead, let's say, of me; suppose she'd grown real sick of him, for such a case might be. She'd turn the pages back. I'm sure, a dozen years or maybe more, to all those happy times of yore when we'd been on some spree.

I never yet committed crime to get myself in jail; I never yet have tried to climb a porch to pilfer kate, but I am sorely tempted now to rob a bank or steal a cow, for I would like to know just how the girls would treat a male. I'd like to see if one would tie the jury just because she recollected years gone by; forgetting all my flaws. If I was sure she'd set me free, I might commit grand larceny or maybe even bigamy—or break the liquor laws.

War For Honesty
Theodore Roosevelt

Go back to your homes and your daily lives with the resolute purpose to war for honesty in its deepest and broadest significance both in our business and in our politics; not only for our own sake, but for the sake of our children who inherit the land after us, but for the sake of the peoples of the world who stand and watch this great experiment of free democracy in the West, so that their hope shall not be dead.

Worth While Verses

IN FREEDOM'S HONOR.
The maid who binds her warrior's sash
With smile that well her pain dissembles,
The while beneath that dropping lash
One starry tear-drop hangs and trembles,
Though heaven alone records that tear
And Fame shall never know her story,
Her heart has shed a drop as dear
As ever dewed the field of glory.

The wife who girds her husband's sword
Mid little ones who weep and wonder
And bravely speaks the cheering word
Although her heart be rent asunder,
Doomed nightly in her dreams to hear
The bolts of war around him rattle,
Has shed as sacred blood as ere
Was poured upon the field of battle.

The mother who conceals her grief
While to her heart her son she presses,
Then breathes a few brave words and brief,
Kisses the patriot brow she blesses,
With no one but her secret God
To know the pain that weighs upon her,
Sheds holy blood as ere the sod
Received in freedom's honor.

TODAY'S TALK
By George Matthew Adams

IDEALS
Ideals are the fine better-things which live beyond us—but for which we willingly strive.

Without these ideals we would shrivel in soul and lag in heart. It is better to have ideals, even though we reach but a very few, than to have no ideals at all. The one lacking in ideals is like a picture void of perspective.

Ideals sculpture a man or woman to the world. Ideals are like the good company one keeps—they raise a man above himself. And we must each of us daily reach out for the things which we so much lack.

Ideals are carried mostly in the heart. And as our hearts warm and expand, we ourselves are caught in the atmosphere of our own goodness of intention and are in turn self-lifted.

And then others are uplifted as well—for no outward act or inner fine feeling is ever lost upon itself.

Like the millions of little coral animalcules which give up their lives for the greatness of that which they leave behind, so do one's ideals shape and lead and build those things which are higher and bigger than the mind which conceives them.

Greater character has no man than he who is willing and anxious to give all that he has in living up to his ideals.

New Slang In Dictionaries
Glenn Frank in Century

Professor Israel Gollancz, eminent Shakespearean scholar and professor of English language and literature at King's college, University of London, with true academic conservatism has suggested that we may consider "camouflage" and "khaki" as sure of a permanent place in our language.

Meanwhile certain dictionaries are presenting supplements of slang words and phrases produced during the war. Cassell's New English Dictionary, for instance, contains a supplement from which the following is gleaned:

Old bean—old fellow.
Brass hat—staff officer.
Clobber—clothing.
Cushy—good job, good pay, and little to do.
Fed up—to get nervous and excited.

Eyewash—humbug.
Flunkhole—government job.
Umpteen—any number.
Napoo—nothing doing.
Wash-out—failure or muddle.

Plainly these words are slang at its slangiest. From such phrases there will probably come little permanent value to the English language. The war brought into being and use many new words, however, that will find permanent room in the writer's kit of tools. The words most sure of permanence are those expressing technical aspects of war operations, some of them the result of sound word building. We shall probably take over in their original form many words from the French and the Germans. Many words that may rightly be classified as new words are in reality old words, but new in the sense of our using them freely and generally for the first time.

Jokes, Joshes and Jingles

Effective Compromise
Heck—You say you never have any domestic squabbles; how do you avoid them?
Peck—Well, you see, immediately after we were married my wife and I came to an understanding. She said: "Now, Henry, we must neither of us be selfish and always trying to run things. We must make mutual concessions. I propose that when we agree on any matter you are to have your own way, and when we disagree I am to have my way. Then we shall get along nicely. And we have."—Boston Transcript.

GLEANINGS

The Rolling Deep
Much travel doth expand the sum
Of care that greets the statesmen grave.
A patriot's life has now become
A life upon the ocean wave.

Worse Still
"It is a dreadful thing to see a production of 'Hamlet' with the Melancholy Dane left out."
"It is a great deal worse to see a production of it where the ghost don't walk."

Paradoxical Business
"There is one thing queer about liquid voices."
"What is that?"
"That they give such solid returns."

Magnanimous
"Dearest, you don't want to marry me for my money, do you?"
"No, darling, but I don't hold it against you."

The Verdict
Spoiled Star—The critics say I am just killing in this part.
Tired Manager—Yes, they do say, you murder it.

Exceptions
"Birds of a feather flock together."
"But how often do you see raven locks with crows' feet?"

Modest
Ebb—"Why don't you wear calico more?"
Flo—"Oh, I just hate to see myself in print."—The Cornell Widow.

The Chronic Optimist
A group of war veterans were discussing Thanksgiving. One of the guests was a veteran who had lost both legs.
"And what have you to be thankful for?" they asked.
"Lots," he replied. "I've got cork legs, and I can put on my socks with thumb-tacks."—The American Legion Weekly.

How Mary Managed
There arose such a din in the nursery that the mother hastened thither to ascertain the trouble. She found the baby crying lustily, while the new nursemaid sat calmly by.
"What a terrible racket, Mary!" exclaimed the mother. "What on earth is the matter? Is there no way you can keep the baby quiet?"
"Shure an' there is, mum," said Mary. "an' I'm doin' it. I can't kape that baby quiet unless I let him make a noise, mum."—Harper's Magazine.

Sense and Nonsense
By the Silly Editor

Dear "Silly Editor:" There have been several articles in the papers of late concerning the clothing—rather lack of clothing—worn by some of our girls today. However, the articles do not exaggerate matters. I have a daughter of my own, who, when she goes to a dance, has on about as many clothes as when she goes to bed. Nothing that I can say seems to have any effect. What would you advise doing?—MOTHER.

DEAR MRS. Mother:
AS FAR as I'm concerned I'M NOT saying anything ABOUT WHAT they're wearing, BECAUSE MY eyesight IS STILL pretty fair.

BUT IF you want advice MY SUGGESTION would be THAT THE next time THAT DAUGHTER of yours STARTS OUT for a dance YOU JUST tell her YOU WANT to go with her.

AND WHEN THE night comes YOU GO ahead to your room AND GET dressed, AND FIND yourself a dress THAT IS short enough TO REACH above the knees AT THE bottom, AND LOW enough TO REACH goodness-knows-where AT THE TOP, AND THIN enough SO THAT you can see through it WITHOUT straining your eyes. AND THEN I'd go ahead.

IF I were you, AND ASK the old man TO BRING me some house paint AND I'D daub it on my face GOOD AND thick SO IT would show UP RATHER PROMINENTLY. AND AFTER that I'D GO downstairs AND SIT around UNTIL DAUGHTER came down. AND THEN I'd say, "ALL RIGHT, my dear, LET'S HURRY up and go 'I'M ALL ready.'"

AND I'M willing to bet THAT WHEN daughter sees you SHE'LL TAKE the hint AND WON'T let you go out AND WON'T GO herself. AND IF it should be THAT SHE didn't say anything AND WANTED to start off JUST LIKE you are, ALL I can say IS THAT you'd be out of luck.

—I THANK YOU.

GOING TO LECTURE ON STATE MOVEMENT

Dr. Harold C. Bryant of the University of California, game expert of the Fish and Game Commission, and Dr. Loye Holmes Miller of the Southern Branch of the University of California, who has a wide knowledge of birds, have been invited to go East this winter to give a series of lectures on the nature guide movement in the Yosemite, which proved to be so successful under the leadership of these two men during this past summer. Other lectures will deal with California's animal life and the program which is being worked out to properly conserve it.

One of the gatherings which has been arranged by the director of national parks, Stephen T. Mather, will be held at Hot Springs, Arkansas. Here officials of state park systems, such as those of Iowa and workers from the staffs of all national parks throughout the country. Arrangements have also been completed for lectures at the American Museum of Natural History in New York and other scientific and geographical societies are bidding for dates.

A great deal of attention has been attracted to the nature guide movement which made its first notable success at Lake Tahoe last year and in the Yosemite National Park this year, where 27,047 visitors made use of the service. The work was inaugurated by the California Fish and Game Commission with the cooperation of the National Park Service and the California Nature Study League. Not only has this movement been valuable in connection with the educational campaign for the conservation of wild life resources but it also forms a part of the

STOLEN GOVERNMENT NARCOTICS RECOVERED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15—Twenty thousand dollars worth of moonshine, part of a big quantity of narcotics and whiskey stolen from the army quartermasters' storehouse at the Presidio, was recovered in Oakland by federal internal revenue agents. Two of the men who raided the warehouse were arrested and confessed. Three weeks of trailing a trunk, shipped from San Francisco after the looting, led the agents to apartments occupied by Louis Balacci, alias "Dago Fat" and Jack, alias Mugsy Williams, who were arrested. In the trunk were found seventy ten-ounce bottles of morphine, all bearing the United States government stamp of ownership.

THE SOCIAL MIRROR

Reception Is Given
By Shop and Studio

A reception of more than usual interest was held Saturday afternoon and evening at the rooms of the Summer Shop and the Mary Smart Studio, at 111½ Fourth street, where the friends and patrons of both places gathered for the fall opening, to view the fine photographic work of the Mary Smart Studio and the beautiful art display of the Summer Shop.

This is the opening of the Mary Smart Studio, under its new name. It was formerly known as the Hickox Studio. The studio has been newly decorated and conveniently arranged, with a beautiful new dressing room and other attractive features. The Summer Shop has been lately remodeled and refreshed in the most artistic manner.

Those who attended Saturday evening were graciously received by the two hostesses, Misses Sumner and Smart, who were ably assisted in the afternoon by Mrs. E. J. Marks of Fullerton, Mrs. Arnold Peek, Mrs.
E. B. Sprague and Misses Bessie Lewis and Hazel Bemis, and in the evening by Mrs. Emrys White and Mrs. Jack Cloyes and Miss Margaret
White, Miss Inez Cloyes and Miss Louise Tubbs.

The rooms were attractively decorated with multi-colored zinnias,

the afternoon and evening tea and wafters were served.

Sedgwick W. R. C.

The regular monthly tea and entertainment, given Friday night by Sedgwick Woman's Relief Corps No.
17, of Santa Ana, was enjoyed by a large crowd. Members considered themselves fortunate in that they obtained the services of Evangelist Albert C. Fisher, now conducting revivals at the First Methodist church, to give a very enjoyable talk. Song Leader McCleskey, Fisher's teammate, rendered a song. Rev. J. L.
Parks and daughter favored with piano and flute music. In addition,
Rev. Parks gave an interesting talk.
Messdames A. B. Gardner and G. N.
Greer pleased with a piano duet. A vocal solo was given by Mrs. S. J.
Hales. Those present then gathered in the dining room of Sedgwick Post's rooms, where Mrs. Elizabeth Birkhead served delicious refreshments.

Entertain With Dinner

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs.
M. A. Yarnell entertained a number of their friends with a delicious three course dinner. Covers were laid for twenty guests, and holly decorations were used.

After dinner, the guests spent the evening playing auction bridge, the first prize going to Mrs. C. V. Davis, second to Mrs. O. K. Forgy and consolation to Mrs. W. E. Winslow.
Gentleman's first prize was awarded to Dr. J. L. Clark, second to Mr.

Autumn's Colors Make
Luncheon Background

THE ARTIST'S SECRET.

There was once an artist, and he painted one picture—painted on it for years. Other artists had colors richer and rarer than his, and painted pictures more notable than this one. He painted his in one color with a wonderful red glow, and people went up and down saying, "We like the picture, we like the glow."

The other artists came and said, "Where does he get his color?" They asked him, but he said, "I cannot tell you," and worked on, with his head bent low.

And one went to the Far East and bought costly pigments and made a rare color and painted, but after a time, the picture faded. Another read in old books and made a color rich and rare, but when he had put it on canvas, it was dead.

But the artist painted on.
Always the glow grew redder,
and redder, and the artist, whiter and whiter. At last, one day they found him dead before his picture, and they took him up to bury him. The other men looked about in all the pots and crucibles for his secret pigment, but they found nothing they had not.

But when they undressed him to put his grave clothes on, they found above his left breast the mark of a life. It was an old, old wound that men have been there all his life, for the edges were scarred and hardened; but Death, who heals all things, had drawn the edges together, and closed it.

They buried him, and still the people went about saying,
"Where did he get his color?"
And it came to pass that after a while the artist was forgotten, but the picture with the glow of his heart's blood, lived on.

Royal Neighbor Dinner.

Members of Magnolia Camp, No.
4133, Royal Neighbors of America, very pleasantly entertained their husbands at a 7 o'clock dinner Monday evening.

The rooms were prettily decorated in autumn colors, the same color scheme being used in the table and napping decorations.

After dinner a short business session was held by the Royal Neighbors, after which music, recitations and old fashioned games were enjoyed by all.

Reception for New Pastor.

The congregation of the Spurgeon Memorial Church, M. E. South, will give a reception at the church tomorrow evening, at 7:30, in honor of the new pastor, Rev. J. A. Wailes and wife. All members of the congregation and friends are invited.

Duck Hunt Success.

A hunting squad, composed of Messrs. George Briggs, J. Fred Parsons, Frank B. Browning, George B.
Shattuck, Duane Holmes and E. V.
S. Pomeroy, went to their gun club on Saturday night and returned with a fine bunch of ducks.

Sunday Picnic Party.

A birthday celebration, in honor of Mrs. M. J. Hoffman, on her seventy-sixth anniversary, was enjoyed by the members of her family,
with a few friends, who took a picnic
luncheon and motored to Pomona Sunday, where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. James John Andrew and daughter, Winifred, and Miss Vaughn of Colton.

The party from Santa Ana was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carnahan and daughters, Gertrude and Pauline, Mr. Frank Hoffman and daughter, Evelyn, Mrs. Maude Swarthout and daughter, Gladys, and Mrs.
M. J. Hoffman. They drove to Pomona Park, where a long table, centered with a handsome birthday cake, was heaped with the contents of lunch boxes, fried chicken, salad, cake and fruit being included in the menu.

The day was ideal for such a picnic gathering, and the happy group, after the generous repast, and celebration of the birthday of Mrs. Hoffman, returned to their respective homes.

BUTTER TASTERS WERE ONCE INDIAN'S COIN

NEW YORK, November 15.—
"Butter tasters" is the name children give to the violet-tinted, worn fragments of clam shells that are to be found on most beaches. These "butter tasters" were an important medium of exchange among the Indian tribes living along the shore in their trading with other natives farther inland.

It can readily be understood that Indians sufficiently adept in the art of chipping arrowheads and other implements of hard flint could easily manufacture rude "money" out of the more attractively colored pieces of these water-worn shells; and this they did, giving to this medium of exchange the name of luckahauk,
somewhat after the style of wampum.

It may be surprising to many, especially to craft workers, to know what really beautiful "stones" these same so-called luckahauks will produce when cut and polished into symmetrical form from pieces of sufficient thickness and showing the rich and beautiful violet colorings that many of them possess.

Such as are found on the beach
are necessarily dull, with no polish, due, of course, to the wear of the sea and sand, but by proper treatment on the laps are brought to a very high polish and look very rich, indeed being entirely unlike any other "gem."

Having considerable hardness, they will wear almost indefinitely when once polished. The colors blend beautifully with silver, either in bright or antique finish, while their beauty is heightened by treatment or embellishment with small "ba-oque, or seed pearls, small amethysts or other harmonizing stones.

WAY FOUND TO GET ALCOHOL OUT OF PEAT

Devotees of the automobile and motor boat will be glad to know that successful experiments have been made in Sweden in extracting wood alcohol from peat. The process as reported by the commercial attaché at Copenhagen, Denmark, is described in a report on peat in 1919
recently issued by the United States Geographical Survey, Department of the Interior. Interesting instances of the use of peat as a fuel are given in this report. A coastwise steamship company of Norway, for example, during the coal shortage, was enabled by the use of peat fuel to keep up its full sailing schedule.

Peat is used also in making up fertilizers and in preparing concentrated food for stock. Last year 69,197 tons of peat, valued at $705, 532, was produced in the United States. This was a decided decrease from the production of 1918, although the peat deposits in this country are extensive.

This report may be obtained upon application to the Director, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

FUND TO ASSIST J. W. MEANS IS URGED HERE

Sympathy for J. W. Means, of Tustin, from whom death recently took his wife and two of his children, has caused a number of people of this city and vicinity to suggest that financial assistance be given him through a public subscription. At the instance of these friends the Register will accept responsibility for money contributed and those desiring to help may send checks or leave money at the business office of the Register.

Means is a hard-working man and is held in the very highest esteem by his neighbors and friends. He is the father of fourteen children, and the family has been sorely afflicted with illness. Seven of the fourteen children have died in the past few years, four dying before the family moved from Texas to Tustin.

He has kept his children at home and given them the very best advantages possible under the circumstances and has labored hard early and late to provide them with a good home.

Sickness and death have depleted his finances. Other members of his family are sick.

Those who have taken an interest in his financial situation assert that there could be no greater act of charity on the part of local people than contributing to a fund that would assist him in meeting some of the expenses that have been incurred in recent months and in providing for other necessities that may be needed by the family at this time.

PASTOR PREACHES ON WAR'S RESULTS

"The world has been in the fiery furnace," said Rev. J. A. Stevenson at the First Presbyterian church last night. "What is the result—slag, cinders and ash?" Out of the apparent failure of the Cross has come the world's greatest success.

The subject of the pastor's sermon was "After the Armistice—What?" "How slowly the world has learned," Rev. Stevenson exclaimed. "It has gone forward like a snail; sometimes it has gone backward. How much the world has learned! The scrapheaps of discarded errors reach the sky. How much the world has to learn!"

"The world has had a new lesson upon the dread evil of kings and kaisers and the 'divine right' of man. The world has learned the futility of force. It has obtained a new valuation of the places and power of the philosophy of the Christ in the affairs of the world."

"No man or nation can live on the past," he declared, "but must live worthy of its inheritance; worthy of the talents with which God has enriched us; worthy of the spirit of the reconstruction days; worthy of the confidence of the Christ, the Prince of Peace. Let us be worthy and then let us heal the hurts of the world."

"The hospitality extended the undesignated and the naval recruiting party when recently in your city was of such splendid quality that I cannot refrain from writing you to acknowledge it and to thank your committee and members of every organization that assisted in our entertainment," writes Governor Stephens. "Your people have the knack of making a stay in your city more than pleasant."

STANDARD BOLSA
CHICA WELL IS FLOWING 3000
BBLS. DAILYGiant Oil Field Is Being Developed In Beach
District, BeliefHOLE 2600 FEET DEEP Sixty Wells to Be Sunk By Rockefeller Concern,
Is Reported

That a vast new oil field is being developed in the Huntington Beach district is further evidenced by the Standard Oil company bringing in a new gusher, estimated today as flowing between 3000 and 5000 barrels of oil.

The fact that the gusher has been developed confirms the belief of oil men that a sea of oil underlies the coast section of Orange county. It is believed that the success of the Standard will further increase activity in the Huntington Beach field and along the coast.

The new well is known as the Standard's Bolsa Chica No. 1, located on the Bolsa Chica Gun club's property, about three-quarters of a mile northwest of Rossmore Hill, where Standard Nos. 1 and 2 already are producing.

The gusher was brought in Saturday night. The force had the well under control and it did not spout the black liquid to the top of the derrick, as is usually the case when a gusher breaks forth. The crew had been anticipating a gusher and was prepared for it.

Unprepared For Gusher
The company, however, was not prepared for a flow of such volume as rushed from the new well, and yesterday a large number of men, with teams, were engaged in enlarging what was found to be an inadequate sump hole. The oil runs about 19 gravity, according to reports from the field today.

The new producer is about 200 feet from the Huntington Beach company's property and at the edge of the mesa. Its depth is 2600 feet and the well was drilled throughout with a rotary outfit. The well was spudded in on August 28.

It is said the drill penetrated 600 feet of oil sand before the spouter broke forth. Twenty-one derricks are now located in the Huntington Beach field and it is expected that many new wells will be started in the immediate future, with what the development of the latest gusher.

The West Whittier Oil company, on the Turley lease, and the Texaco company, on the Dana Burke lease are now operating.

To Drill Sixty Wells
The new well is located in hitherto unproven territory. It is the furthest west of any of the wells previously drilled in the Huntington Beach district. Sixty wells will be drilled by the Standard Oil company, according to reports today.

TUMULTY MAY LEAD
DEMOCRATIC FORCES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Latest gossip among Democratic leaders here relative to party reorganization links the name of Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, with the Democratic National Committee chairmanship. Democrats inside and outside of the Wilson wing of the party are said to have suggested Tumulty as good material for the chairmanship to undertake systematic rehabilitation of the wrecked party machine. Should Tumulty consent to let his name be considered he has been assured of influential support from friends of the Cox Democrats.

William J. Bryan, was in Washington but declined to discuss Democratic questions.

JAPS DENY ISLANDS
ARE BEING FORTIFIED

TOKIO, Nov. 15.—Captain Nomura, aide to the minister of the navy, speaking in the name of the minister, said every report that Japan was fortifying or planning to fortify and establish bases in the mandated Pacific islands is wholly false, according to the Kokusai agency. Japan, he declared, is living up strictly to every mandate under the terms of the League of Nations covenant.

Premier Hara, addressing 5000 of his supporters, said that no question had been more keenly watched than the anti-Japanese legislation in California. He declared it would be regrettable if the question affected the good relations of Japan and the United States, but that a conflict was unthinkable.

Intelligent people in both countries value each other's friendship too much for that, the premier asserted, and the United States never yet had disregarded Japan's rights and interests, no matter what questions arose between the two countries.

Friendly solution of the problem is possible, the premier said, asserting the belief that a majority of the Americans did not endorse California's recent action. The premier expressed confidence that the Washington negotiations would result in a satisfactory settlement.

LAST RITES HELD
FOR W. K. ROBINSON

Funeral services for Walter K. Robinson, pioneer resident of Santa Ana, were held Saturday afternoon at the Mills & Winbiger Funeral Home. The chapel was taxed to capacity to accommodate those who gathered to pay their last respects. That the deceased was held in high esteem was evident by the large number of friends present and the wealth of flowers and special pieces contributed.

Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church, conducted the services at the chapel, speaking comforting words to the relatives of the deceased and reading a brief biography of the departed.

Mrs. T. A. Winbiger sang two numbers, "Abide With Me" and "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go." She was accompanied by Mrs. J. W. McCormack, at the piano.

Odd Fellows conducted the services at the graveside.

The pallbearers were L. F. Sheets, Walter Tedford and B. Uttley, of Odd Fellows lodge, and W. C. Jerome, W. W. Wasser and John Osterman, of Elks' lodge.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Alone in the men's lines with a dozen prisoners on his hands, Policeman Laurence Harnett of the Desplantes-street station reverted to tactics learned in the A. E. F. today.

He had raided a saloon where a dozen men were found shooting craps.

"Come up against the wall," he commanded, "while I call the wagon."

"You are out of luck, old sport," one of the gamblers said. "There's no telephone in the place. You might as well let us go. You can't get us all at once."

Harnett laughed. "Guess again," he said. "You birds aren't any worse than a gang of Heines. I guess. Fall in!"

The gamblers sheepishly followed the example of three who understood the command.

"Attention!"

The twelve men approximated military attention.

"Right by file—march!"

Out the door they went with Harnett at their heels revolver ready. They marched down Monroe street half a mile and then stood at ease while Harnett opened a patrol box and called the wagon.

He branded as "false" any statements that the American Red Cross was, opening December 13, F. W. Lyman, retired financier, will be treasurer of the fund.

FARMERS URGED TO SELL, EVEN
AT LOW PRICEMessage Is Given Through Bankers at Meeting at El Centro

"Sell your product; keep things moving."

That, in brief, is the advice given to farmers by W. A. Day of San Francisco, deputy governor of the Federal Reserve Bank, Twelfth district.

The advice was offered to farmers through the bankers of Group 4, State Bankers' Association, who were in convention at El Centro Saturday evening.

Among bankers who attended the meeting were A. J. Crookshank, president; W. B. Williams, cashier; J. H. Turner, assistant cashier; all of the First National Bank; E. B. Sprague, cashier of the Orange County Trust & Savings bank; W. A. Huff, president of the Farmers & Merchants Savings bank, and J. M. Woodworth of the Garden Grove bank.

Day said that he believed that the best thing that can be done to meet the general business condition of the country is to keep money moving. His advice to farmers is to sell, even if they have to sell at low prices. He believed it best for them to get what money they can and get ready for the next crop. His idea of the best way to secure an adjustment of the country over is "to keep things moving."

Other speakers were Henry M. Robinson, president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, and Congressman-elect Phil D. Swing of El Centro. Swing outlined the possibilities that lie in Colorado river development.

Bankers who went from here to El Centro stated that the hardest nut that Imperial Valley has to crack right now is the harvest of the cotton crop. The farmers already have more money invested in this year's crop than cotton, if ready for market, would bring. Many of the farmers have no money with which to go ahead with the picking of the crop.

MOONSHINERS NOW
BURY THEIR BOOZE

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 15.—In San Bernardino county the moonshiners are burying their product, according to the information brought to the city by Dan J. O'Leary, prohibition agent.

On the premises of Enrico Matteo, near Etiwanda, sixty gallons of brandy, 300 gallons of wine and two stills were found which had been hidden by burial in the brush. The stuff was confiscated, but Matteo had been warned and escaped. The local constables are looking for him.

At Cotton, Pablo Vallarde's premises yielded a supply of brandy, whiskey and wine. This stuff was buried in the garden.

The prohibition officers report a general defiance of the prohibition law among the Mexican and Spanish portion of the population.

FINE SPECIMENS OF
BIRDS GIVEN ACADEMY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The W. Otto Emerson collection of California bird skins, numbering 5500 specimens and including the best and most complete representation of the birds of Alameda county ever assembled by any ornithologist, has been received by the California Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park through the generosity of William H. Crocker and John W. Malliard, announces the academy's secretary, W. W. Sargeant.

Several specimens of the collection are records of California birds being the first ever taken in the state. In sparrows, grosbeaks, warblers and ducks, there are complete series for both sexes from the downy young to the adult, showing color changes representative of all ages and seasons.

Emerson, who resides at Palm Cottage, near Hayward, had his interest in bird life awakened while a boy on the prairies of Illinois. Immediately on his arrival in Alameda county some forty years ago, he began observing, collecting and studying the birds of the State. The collection is the result of this hobby of a lifetime. Emerson feared that eventually the collection might be taken out of the State.

The collector was a friend of the late Dr. James G. Cooper, noted early California ornithologist, and had acquired some of that scientist's manuscripts and diaries dating back to 1853. These also have been turned over to the academy.

Police have initiated a search for Julian Whitley, father of Mrs. Johnson.

BOOZE VALUED AT
$67,540 IS STOLEN

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 15.—A band of about twenty-five whiskey thieves broke open two freight cars in railroad yards here and stole 558 cases of whiskey and forty-four barrels of alcohol, valued at $67,540.

The loot was carried off in motor trucks after a railroad policeman had been kidnapped.

CANADA, IN BIG CANAL PROJECT, WOULD LINK LAKES WITH ATLANTIC

Work by the Canadian government on a new Welland Canal has revived interest throughout the West and Middle West in the long discussed project to connect the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Ocean so that ocean vessels may ply direct to the lake ports.

Picture at top shows how Canada is breaking through, with the new channel to Port Weller, on Lake Ontario. Dotted line on small map indicates canal being built. Large map shows the possible waterway route from St. Paul and Minneapolis, to Duluth, down through the lakes and the St. Lawrence to the Atlantic.

CHILD WELFARE
WORKER TALKS
HERE FRIDAY

Dr. James Mace Andress, a representative of the United States Department of Education and of the National Child Welfare League, is to deliver a free lecture in Santa Ana at 2:45 o'clock Friday afternoon. The meeting will be held at the First Congregational church.

The meeting in Santa Ana is to be held under the auspices of the County Federation of Parent-Teacher associations. Mrs. Earl L. Morris of Santa Barbara and Cleveland, announces the meeting as a mass meeting for parents, teachers, social workers and other citizens generally. It is understood that in his address, Dr. Andress is to place emphasis upon child welfare work.

Dr. Andress was at one time head of the department of psychology and child study in the Boston Normal school, and his published books are considered authoritative. Among them are "Teaching Hygiene in the Grades," "Health Education in Rural Schools," and "Rosy Cheeks and Strong Hearts," a book of health fairy tales which will appear shortly through the Child Health Organization of America.

HUGE LUMBER SUPPLY
IN RESERVES, CLAIM

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—More than 1,000,000,000 feet of merchantable timber, worth now about $5,000,000 is standing in the Angeles Forest Reserve, according to T. D. Woodley, assistant district forest ranger in charge of the reserve timber sales, who was in the city consulting with Supervisor Allen. The local reserve contains far more timber than the other two national forest segregations in Southern California, the Santa Barbara and Cleveland reserves having a stand of about 350,000,000 feet each.

It will continue to be the policy of the Forest Service to sell the bulk of the merchantable timber to the general commercial trade. The quantity and value of the timber in the reserve is increasing every year, says Mr. Woodley, because of the forestry department's conservation policy, which forbids the denuding of mountain sides and which permits the cutting of only ripe or over-crowded trunks.

HANDLING SPARES

Many truck owners using pneumatics have found that it is best to give the spare tires an occasional dose of work. That is to say, shift the tires around so that each one in turn gets a chance to act the part of spare. Light and atmospheric conditions have an ill effect on rubber and in actual practice being carried as a spare probably has a more damaging effect on a tire than actual service.

SPEED PLANS TO SHIP CITRUS
FRUIT BY SEA

That the California Fruit Growers Exchange expects to establish a bureau to devote its efforts to the development of shipment of citrus fruits by way of the Panama canal is declared in a statement sent to all associations affiliated with the exchange.

The question of water shipment has been taken up anew in recent weeks. A review of the views of the exchange on water shipments and a statement of the plans of the exchange for investigating the situation are given to the association as follows:

"The question of water transportation through the Panama canal for citrus fruit for Atlantic seaboard and other far Eastern markets in the United States and for European shipments was discussed at our directors' meeting on November 3, and it was ordered that a resume of the situation be given to our shippers by circular.

ROLL CALL OF

S. A. PASTORS AID CAUSE

Solicitors Will Continue Activities During All of This Week

Hundreds of Santa Anans responded today, when the annual roll call of the American Red Cross was begun in this city.

Though the weather was threatening, canvassers were early on the job. Reports up to noon showed that citizens generally were responding favorably, as they always have when the call of the Red Cross was sounded in Santa Ana.

The principal activities in solicitation today were in the business section and southern sections of the city. The Elks, Rotary club, Kiwanis club and Knights of Columbus solicitors were urged to make their canvasses today so that business men could report to their homes as to whether or not subscriptions had been given at the places of business.

There has always been some confusion by reason of the fact that housewives believed that the family's subscriptions would be made at the store, and the owner of the store has expected that the subscription would be made at his home. This difficulty to a certain extent will be obviated by an early canvass of the business section.

To Receive Reports.

Solicitors are to report this evening to their team captains, and team captains are to turn their collections over to the city committee, which is composed of Mrs. C. F. Cross, Mrs. Arthur H. Lyon and Mrs. J. N. Anderson, and the chapter chairman, Mrs. Susie Rutherford, tomorrow morning between 9 and 11, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The call of the Red Cross was heralded from a number of Santa Ana pulpits yesterday. Ministers pointed out the great need there is for giving adequate support to "The Greatest Mother on Earth."

At the First Congregational church last evening, an address was delivered by Miss Anna Rohde, who is Red Cross nurse employed by Santa Ana chapter, American Red Cross.

One of the peace time aims of the Red Cross is to carry a message of common-sense healthfulness into homes of the land. This message is being delivered in many cities through health centers, welfare stations, and community and school nurses. Miss Rohde is acting as community nurse, and at the same time is doing a good deal of the work that can be done by a school nurse.

Miss Rohde outlined the scope of her endeavors in Santa Ana. She is teaching classes of girls at Junior high school, instructing them in home nursing. It is her aim to give these girls information so that they will be able better to do the things that must be done in a family when a member of it becomes ill. The taking of temperatures, the making of beds, the making of poultices—these are but a few of the many things taught the girls.

SPANIARDS ASK FOR EXCHANGE REDUCTION

MADRID, Nov. 15.—The Industrial Protection society of Barcelona, representing the great proportion of Catalan enterprises, has sent a message to Premier Dato petitioning government intervention in the exchange situation. It is asserted by the petition that the cotton industry, owing to the price of the dollar, has been compelled to pay an increase of 200,000 pesetas for cotton, while wool, oil and machinery importers are suffering equally.

The rise in exchange is purely artificial, the message adds, which says that state action should be exercised immediately.

forward to the possibilities of the water route for citrus fruit since the opening of the Canal, believing that it offered an opportunity for a more economical transportation for a considerable portion of our crop and that, with proper facilities, there is no reason why our products can't successfully be shipped via the canal.

Slight Decay Shown
"Before the canal was open, an experimental shipment of a carload each of oranges and lemons was dispatched via this route with the attendant along to report as to the service given, temperatures, humidity, etc. The time was slow and the fruit had to be loaded on deck covered only by tarpaulins; it got wet during a storm on the Pacific, was handled roughly in the transfer across the Isthmus and was subjected to unnecessary heat on the Atlantic side when the ship ran into cold weather. In spite of all this mishandling, the fruit showed only seven per cent decay when sold in New York.

"Arrangements were being concluded for shipments under more favorable conditions when the war called practically all the ships off that route. Since the war, service via the canal has been resumed by several lines, but until recently it has not been sufficient for the demands of other commodities which weigh more per cubic foot than our fruits and, therefore, were more desirable for the steamship companies. The indications are that the shortage of bottoms is about over and that space will be available for tonnage which moves in volume and regularity.

Committee Named
"Our directors have appointed a special committee to act with the management and traffic department to pursue this matter to a satisfactory conclusion. The traffic department has been in communication through correspondence, with various steamship companies, and our traffic manager, on a recent eastern trip, called upon those now operating through the canal and upon others who might be interested in our tonnage, and also upon the United States Shipping Board. The pier facilities and sales conditions in the large Atlantic coast markets were canvassed with the sales department and our district managers. An investigation of the ventilating equipment on the Nova Scotia and Great Britain and on the boats handling Spanish, Palestinian, South African and Porto Rican oranges and Italian lemons and oranges, and on the banana boats is contemplated.

"The citrus fruits from the foreign countries are shipped without refrigeration, and experiments will be made to determine if the cost of installation and operation of refrigeration space can not be avoided on our shipments by water. The present canal-route ships are not equipped with refrigerated chambers, but they could be installed, or Shipping Board or other boats could be originally so equipped if necessary.

"The present rail freight rates on citrus fruit are so high that there is a large opportunity in sight to save in transportation charges through shipping by water, and the exchange will develop the conditions and methods necessary for the most economical and safe carrying of the fruit as quickly as possible. It is expected that the commission and board will authorize the establishment of a bureau to devote its efforts exclusively to developing the canal route to a satisfactory conclusion."

KELP CUTTER WRECKED
SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 15.—One perfectly good kelp cutter has been lost at sea, off the Ventura coast, due to high pounding waves and heavy fog. The barge was owned by the United States experimental station at Summerland, and was en route from San Pedro to Santa Barbara under his own power, having been taken south for repairs. The pilot lost his bearings in dense mist and ran on a sandbar. Smashing combbers soon cradled the barge in a grave of sand. The men on board had little trouble in reaching land. A tug was sent out and efforts made to pull what was left of the barge into deep water, but the craft broke in half and was abandoned.

CANDIDATE ASKS RECOUNT
CARSON CITY, Nov. 15.—Following a canvass of the vote for sheriff of Ormsby county by the county commissioner, in which J. H. Stern, Republican, shown to have defeated W. H. James, Jr., Democrat, by one vote, James announced his intention to ask for a recount of the ballots before the District court.

PLAN CIVIC DINNER
VAN NUYS, Nov. 15.—Van Nuys will have its second civic dinner Friday night at the Woman's clubhouse, under the auspices of the Van Nuys chamber of commerce. Everything served will be a product of San Fernando valley. Sylvester L. Weaver, first vice-president of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce; Dr. F. M. Coleman of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' association, San Jose; G. B. Daniels, state market director, San Francisco, and H. Hecke, director of the State Department of Agriculture, Sacramento, will speak.

HE HAD TO SLEEP SITTING UP IN HIS CHAIR

"Every sign of my chronic bronchitis has disappeared and I have gained fifteen pounds since I began taking Tanlac," said N. E. Jones, 49, Webster St., Portland, Oregon, recently. Mr. Jones is well known as a miner and mechanic and owns a gold mine in Baker County, Oregon. "While stationed in Camp at Washington, D. C., about a year ago," continues Mr. Jones, "I was put on guard duty one wet, freezing night and as I had no heavy clothing I contracted a heavy cold in the lungs. It left me in a very weak condition and finally developed into chronic bronchitis. I could not lie down, I coughed up so, and had to get what sleep I could sitting up in a chair. Sometimes I would simply have to gasp for breath. I tried several things but got no permanent relief, and I continued to cough so people thought I had consumption. I had a shooting pain through my chest and back every time I breathed and I had to discontinue working on my mine, the outside work made me choke up so bad.

"A friend of mine over near Mt. Tohor advised me to take Tanlac and it has certainly been a life saver to me. I took four bottles and I now lie down as well as anybody, and there is no sign of pain left. I work in my mine every day now and Tanlac has built me up so wonderfully I recommend it to anyone who needs a good medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., Heying Pharmacy, Anaheim, Jesse Hardy, Fullerton, and the leading druggists in every town.

duty is to give instructions and demonstrations to teach some member of the family or some neighbor how to take care of the sick person. She may be called upon by any physician. She does not take a case and remain with it day and night. Her duty is done when she points the way, "gets things straightened around," and puts the family on the way to giving the patient proper attention.

Miss Rohde is meeting each week with the Child Welfare station's mothers and infants, giving advice and suggestions.

The present roll call in Santa Ana vitally concerns the work of the community nurse. Half of the money derived from the roll call will go to the National Red Cross for its general work. The other half will remain in the hands of the local chapter for local uses. The community nurse's work is to be maintained the coming year.

Canvassing for the Red Cross will continue throughout the remainder of this week. Those who overworked territory without return to the places where no one was found at home. It is planned to make the canvass thorough, so that none who desires to become a member of the Red Cross will be missed.

They Want Nurses
Garden Grove solicitors are to cover the Bolsa and the section of the community nurse. Half of the money derived from the roll call will go to the National Red Cross for its general work. The other half will remain in the hands of the local chapter for local uses. The community nurse's work is to be maintained the coming year.

CRACKSMEN FOILED
ONTARIO, Nov. 15.—Thieves who entered the Ontario Machine works seeking acetylene tanks were experienced yeggs planning to "crack" some local safe, according to police. Night police found the rear door of the plant pried open and called W. H. Ross, proprietor. He reported nothing missing, but found that two acetylene tanks had been examined. The fact that they were empty foiled the safe-robbars, Ross believes.

Tracks indicated the men had driven a truck to the rear door of the plant and loaded the outfit on it. Ross told police that in Oregon his acetylene tanks were stolen one night and several safes cut open and thousands of dollars stolen from neighboring stores.

SAYS UNITED STATES WILL HELP FRANCE

PARIS, Nov. 15.—The United States may have refused to sign the Anglo-French-American alliance, but numerous Americans visiting France continue to assure the French press that America does not intend to let France suffer from an invasion in the future. The latest of these visitors here to give this assertion is Dr. Ernest Laplace, professor of surgery in the University of Pennsylvania, who is the guest of his brother-in-law, Dr. Borsch, a famous French oculist.

In an interview printed in the Elclair this morning, Dr. Laplace declares that Mr. Harding is merely the mouthpiece of the American nation, but is ready to work for the reconstruction of the bonds of friendship between the two republics.

DEMOCRATS LAY BATTLE PLAN FOR 1922

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Ignoring those who demand reorganization of the party, house and senate Democrats are to begin the campaign of 1922 immediately upon the convening of congress, leaders declared today.

They hope to capitalize the mistakes which they predict the Republicans will make, so that in the congressional elections two years hence the Democrats can "come back."

Both the short session which begins December 6 and the special session, expected soon after Harding's inauguration, are to be devoted by the Democratic minorities to getting campaign material.

Representative Claude Kitchin, Democratic leader in the house, is back in Washington and announces his readiness to take charge of the minority and make it an aggressive fighting force. The Republicans, in spite of their record breaking plurality in the house, are none too well united, Kitchin thinks, and he believes that the Democrats can be exceedingly effective politically.

Kitchin scoffs at talk of party reorganization. He predicts the Republicans would attempt to impose consumption taxes as a substitute for the Democratic excess profits tax which is scheduled for repeal. Consumption taxes would turn out much worse politically than the excess profits, he declared.

In the senate, the Democrats will be guided by Senators Underwood, of Alabama, and Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Hitchcock said today that it will not be necessary to reorganize the party in his opinion.

J. P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, would make no comment on reports that he is to become head of the Democratic national committee, with the job of perfecting party organization.

AGENTS INSPECT FRUIT.

POMONA, Nov. 15.—Following the annual custom of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, a number of Eastern selling agents of the organization are now in Southern California for two weeks, getting acquainted at first hand with the growing and shipping end of the business. The party was shown over the district by R. L. Knox and E. P. Jochimsen. The guests included W. K. Sprout of Detroit, J. W. Brownlow and wife of Toronto, O. G. Butts and wife of Pittsburgh, H. E. Pitt of Chicago, C. P. Wheelock of Indianapolis, L. L. Brown of Memphis, J. L. Grassley of Spokane and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dahlgren of Los Angeles.

MANY IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS

LONG BEACH, Nov. 15.—Leaving the two largest improvement enterprises out of consideration, the department of public works is now engaged in ninety distinct street projects, covering a wide range of area and including paving, sewerage, curbing and sidewalk, opening and widening, and lighting and public thoroughfares. Overshadowing all, of course, is the harbor, with expenditures variously estimated at $1,000,000 to $3,000,000, according to the extent of the city's interest. Next in importance is the storm drainage system, destined to care for the runoff on city streets and alleys, and costing probably not less than a half million dollars.

SENTENCED TO BATHTUB

LONG BEACH, Nov. 15.—The bathtub, not the jail, is the place for six small boys who were haled before local police authorities, after having been taken into custody on a charge of stealing soda pop. The lads were released with instructions to report daily for six months with "clean hands and clean necks and ears."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits.

FISHER ASSERTS HOME PROBLEM IS GREATEST

Solution of America's problems lies in the solving of the problem of religion in the home, according to Evangelist Albert C. Fisher in his sermon at the morning service at the First Methodist church yesterday.

"Solve the problem of religion in the home," he said, "and you solve the problem of anarchy. This is the place to tackle and to solve our troubles."

"The home problem is the one great problem," the evangelist continued. "When it is not solved it goes to the school, and ultimately to the state, which tries to solve it with jails and prisons."

"In one day I cut from one daily paper reports of twenty-three violent deaths which showed the wreck of boys and girls spiritually and morally. I was in the army and know what influence the home had on men, and I had the most trouble with the boy who came from the Christian home that had broken down and who had taken of war. Mother raised me, and we children knew when we were 'raised.' Children do not know such training today. Father, you must not shift your responsibility in this matter. It is God given."

What is in Your Home?

"What is in your home? Do you know that while you talk of the wicked cities of New York, Chicago and San Francisco, a boy may be raised to cleaner manhood in them than in the average town? The war proved that."

"But we let down the bars during the war, and the Christian home has failed to put them back."

"Carelessness will destroy the home. Destroy the home and you destroy the nation. You men used to take candy and flowers in those days of courting, why not now? It is like the fellow running to catch a car, as soon as he has caught it he sits down."

"Woman's influence is the greatest in the home because God made her to be queen of love. God put the plastic life of the child into her love. Nero's mother was a murdering woman. Byron could count only eleven happy days in his life. Mrs. Wesley gave some great sons to the world because she was faithful to God. She was too busy to be selfish who had nineteen children. Compare that with the large families of two we have today. Some of the families put me in mind of an old fool hen running around with one lone little chick. Nearly all our great men came from large families."

Touches On Dress Question

The evangelist touched on the dress question only long enough to say that, "what with the cutting off of the dress at the top, and the cutting off of the dress at the bottom, it will soon be that a real modest man will have to stay inside or walk around with his eyes shut, if he desires to retain his modesty."

The relation of the church to the problems of social life will be discussed at a called meeting of the parents of the students at Junior and Polytechnic high schools and of the Junior college tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

POSTMASTERS MAY LOSE LIFE PLACES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Postmasters of the United States, second and third classes, who were placed under the civil service rules by executive orders of President Wilson, they anticipated. There is already a well-organized movement to urge President-elect Harding to inaugurate a revocation of this order. The problem promises to be a serious one and will involve a delicate matter of politics for the Harding administration.

Senators and congressmen, who believe the order should be revoked have the natural desire of rewarding their constituents, and in justification of their position claim that President Wilson's order was not issued until practically every Republican postmaster had been removed and their places filled with deserving Democrats.

They say the justice of the order would have been much greater if President Wilson had issued the order either at the outset of his administration or midway in the administration, so that the permanent positions could have been filled by the well-qualified men of both parties. Instead of that, they point out, the president waited until he could give life positions to supporters of his own party. They believe the people will see the point and will justify a revocation of the order, at least to the extent of refilling places which are not well filled at the present time.

PANAMA CANAL NOW SHOWS PROFIT, REPORT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The Panama canal is fully self-sustaining and, had there been no change in the rules of measurement, such as recently made, would show a comfortable surplus over cost of operation, according to the current Canal Record, the official publication of the zone.

During the last fiscal year total operating expenses were $6,545,272 and receipts $3,295,871, leaving a profit of $2,249,401. This does not take into account interest on capital invested, amounting to $367,151,696, representing the entire cost of the canal.

The total cost of operation of the canal since it was opened had been $36,657,766 and total revenue to the end of the past fiscal year $34,657,766, less certain deductions on account of refunds of tolls which would make the deficit on that score $2,231,091, instead of a surplus of $2,249,401 had the original rules of measurement been adhered to.

Worn Out In Mind and Body

Your child is quick to observe disturbances in your mental attitude or physical condition. And when he asks: "What's the matter, Daddy?" there's a tone of solemn anxiety in his little voice. The depression stamped upon you reflects intensely upon him because of his profound solicitude. He at once drops his playthings and rushes to your side, but his happy smile has disappeared and his buoyant spirits are gone—replaced by a countenance of worry and a bearing of hopelessness.

You owe it to the happiness and welfare of your family to keep trim in body and keen in intellect. You are the sun and the inspiration of their lives. Dark, threatening clouds hover over their heads the instant you show signs of being "out of sorts" or "under the weather." Don't imperil their future by neglecting your health.

Lyko

The Great General Tonic will banish that "dread feeling" and dispel that worn-out look. It will renew your strength and vigor, overcome the ravishing effects of overwork and worry, revive your spirits and increase your hold on life. Being a refreshing appetizer, a valuable aid to digestion and a worthy promoter of the general health, because of its positive retarding and reconstructive value, its use is especially desirable in cases of abnormal conditions. If you suffer from nervous exhaustion, muscular or mental fatigue, or deficiency of vital force due to general weakness or wasting illness, you'll find "LYKO" particularly beneficial. It tones up the entire system and keeps you feeling fit. Ask your druggist for a bottle today.

SHORT LINE R. R. MEN AWAITING WAGE AWARD

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Wage awards which will affect more than a hundred thousand men employed on close to 600 short line railroads throughout the country will be announced within the next few weeks, according to United States railroad labor board officials, here today.

The wages sought are similar to those asked by the Big Four Brotherhood and employees on big roads. These employees, numbering two million were recently awarded approximately 60 per cent of their demands. Though there are 600 short line railroads in the country, employees on only 97 have asked the board to apply the recent award to them. Originally 115 made application to the board but officials of 18 of these have voluntarily applied the award and the applications withdrawn. In addition to these eighteen, thirty-five other roads have applied the recent award, making a total of fifty-three voluntarily applying the award.

The decision in the case now being studied by the board will be of tremendous importance to employees on other short line roads. What action is taken in this case is believed almost certain to be applied to all of them. It is considered most probable that the board will cover all short line roads in its decision.

The short line road employees are backed in their demands by officials of the Brotherhoods and the American Federation of Labor. Practically all of them are members of the Brotherhood or of the Department of Railway Employees of the American Federation of Labor. Their request was not included in the earlier demands, because short line roads were operated under private control. It was only employees on roads that were formerly under federal control that asked for a raise. The latter originally made their demands when the government operated the roads and by the time they obtained the action sought, the roads were back in private hands.

The same union officials who pushed the demands of the 2,000,000 railroad employees earlier in the year handled the presentation of the short line road employees case. President Timothy O'Shea, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, President L. E. Sheppard of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, and E. M. Jewell, president of the Railroad Shopmen's union, were chief counsel for the short line road employees.

Demands sought by the short line workers, if granted, would mean an approximate annual pay increase in 100,000 pay envelopes of $50,000,000, it is estimated.

SAYS HARDING CANNOT COME WEST JUST NOW

President-elect Harding will be unable to visit California at this time, but is looking forward to a visit at some future date, is the declaration of his secretary, George B. Christian, Jr., in a telegram in the hands of Crombie Allen, of Ontario, president of the Southern California Associated Dailies, in response to an invitation recently sent Senator Harding by the Ontario man on behalf of the newspaper organization. Allen telegraphed inviting Senator Harding, the first newspaper editor to be elected president of the United States, to address a meeting of the Associated Dailies members, to which all the newspaper men of the state were to have been invited.

SELF-ADMITTED HERO'S WAR-RECORD LACKING

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 15.—That Ben Scovell, actor, entertainer and self-admitted war hero, was not a member of the Canadian army during the war was proved by Fred Carne, veteran of the world war with the Canadian forces, who received the following telegram in response to a wire to the Canadian War Office, asking light on the record of Scovell:

"Record 515. No Ben Scovell on sailing list of the 169th Battalion. No record of a soldier of that name with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces.

DELANO, CAL., C. OF C. NOW HAS 220 MEMBERS

That Delano, a thriving California city with a population of approximately 800, is fully alive to the value of a chamber of commerce, is evidenced by the fact that an organization has just been effected there with a membership of 220 and with dues at $15 per annum.

According to a report coming to J. C. Metzger, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, the membership has been signed up for three years. In addition to this a sustaining fund has been created. With the organization will have an annual income of $11,000.

Creation of the chamber with an annual income of $11,000 is of particular interest to local chamber of commerce men, following the drive made here last month for an increase in memberships. The campaign resulted in having the list here to 314 members at $12 per year. Before the drive the membership was about 600, and the dues $6 per year.

SAYS AUSTRALIA IS HAVING DIFFICULTY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—The faculty and students of the College of Commerce and Business Administration, University of Southern California, were addressed by Leslie B. Henry, Pasadena manager for Blyth, Witter & Co., who has just returned from Australia, where he made a special study of economic and financial conditions.

He says that Australia faces many unique problems.

"Of its population of 5,000,000, three-fifths live in the two cities of Sydney and Melbourne," says he. "The country is badly governed politically and the full power of the government in any economic activity is apt to be given in support of the voting majority which is concentrated in the cities. This leads to industrial and labor troubles.

"Because of the depreciation of the purchasing power of their money and because of the great war debt, France, England, Germany and Italy are cutting all of their own available land. In addition to this, the French government has offered the five largest wool producers in Australia millions of acres in Morocco, free from rent for ten years, for the development of wool. Already 50,000 head of sheep have left Australia and $250,000,000 of Australian capital have been invested in the wool industry in Morocco.

"The day will come when the wool and wheat crops will be turned back on Australia; the farmers will have no money to spend and industrialism will collapse.

"When the Australian government imports crude oil in order to provide labor for its population, and prohibits the importation of automobile bodies in order to maintain its coach-building industry, it is laying itself open for two things: (1) The collapse of industrialism and the return to agrarianism, and (2) it will lose the confidence and respect of the world and will be shut out from the finance of the world."

"NEVER HAS TO CALL A DOCTOR--BATHES INTERNALLY"

Mr. J. E. McNeil, P. O. Box 217, Globe, Ariz., writes to the Tyrell Hygienic Institute: "I have been using the 'J. B. L. Cascade' for the past twenty-five years and call it our cheap family physician for the reason that I have never had to call in a physician to treat one of the family. What a pity more of the human race are not acquainted with the virtues of the Cascade in a family."

WILSON FACING UNEVEN ODDS, SAYS BRYAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—No enemy could wish President Wilson anything worse than that he should waste his remaining strength in a struggle with a Republican senate, thus postponing promotion of world peace through American co-operation, William Jennings Bryan declared in an interview today.

Bryan, outlining the reasons why he believes President Wilson should resign and permit Senator Harding to assume direction of the nation's affairs at once, said:

"The plan is so easily understood and supported by arguments so unanswerable that it only needs to be stated to be convincing.

"The constitution provides a way in which Senator Harding can be called immediately to the work entrusted to him by an overwhelming majority of the people. That way I have pointed out. The president can resign; that will make Vice President Marshall president. Mr. Marshall can appoint Senator Harding secretary of state and resign.

"There being no vice president (in case Marshall becomes president), the secretary of state is next in line of succession.

"Now, the reasons. Everyone knows that the one matter on the president's heart is world peace. He believes and I think a large majority of the American people agree with him, that our nation can greatly aid in promotion of peace by co-operating with other nations.

"The president thought that this cooperation should be on the terms of the covenant as he presented it to the senate. But the people have decreed otherwise and endorsed the Harding plan of an association of nations.

"The president could hardly be expected to attempt to carry out the Harding idea and it is not likely that the Republican senators would permit him to do it if he tried.

"Therefore, the only progress that can be made towards such co-operation is along the Harding plan, with Mr. Harding himself carrying it out.

"Such an offer as above suggested might well be made, even if the president were well, in view of the tremendous importance of the issue submitted and the supreme value of immediate action, but such an offer would seem to be the more wise because nothing but a sense of duty could lead the president to risk his health and even his life in a contest not only unnecessary but futile, with a Republican congress elected two years ago as a protest and endorsed this year, in its opposition."

PEACH GROWER BREAKS CONTRACT -- PAYS $800

FRESNO, Nov. 15.—Judges M. F. McCormick of Fresno recently ordered judgment for the plaintiff in the suit of the California packing corporation for damages against G. H. Dulgarian, a peach grower. The judgment approximated $800, the amount representing the difference between the price for which the undelivered peaches were contracted for and the open market price.

The suit was the first of a series brought by the packing corporation against growers to reach judgment. They are based on failure of the orchardists to deliver fruit contracted for at a price of $25 a ton and sold to others at higher prices.
